Rules of Conduct for NMLS Approved Pre-Licensure (PE) and Continuing Education (CE) Courses

The Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act (SAFE ACT) requires that state-licensed MLO's complete pre-licensing (PE) and continuing education (CE) courses as a condition to be licensed. The SAFE Act also requires that all education completed as a condition for state licensure be NMLS approved. Since 2009 NMLS has established course design, approval, and delivery standards which NMLS approved course providers are required to meet. To further ensure students meet the education requirements of the SAFE Act, NMLS has established a Rules of Conduct (ROC). The ROC, which have been approved by the NMLS Mortgage Testing & Education Board, and the NMLS Policy Committee, both of which are comprised of state regulators, are intended to stress that NMLS approved education be delivered and completed with integrity.

Rules of Conduct

NMLS approved course providers are not authorized by NMLS to grant exceptions to these rules and that I alone am responsible for my conduct under these rules. I also understand these rules are in addition to whatever applicable rules the course provider may have set. Additionally, I understand that the course provider or others may report any alleged violations to NMLS. NMLS may conduct an investigation into alleged violations and may report alleged violations to the state(s) in which I am seeking licensure or maintain licenses, or to other states. Course Description

This course will instruct mortgage loan originators on a number of regulations that they will have to comply with while taking part in their mortgage loan origination activities. Rules, such as those implemented by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, are set in place to protect the interest and well-being of consumers who apply for mortgages to purchase or refinance their properties. To ensure that their business practices satisfy the regulations adopted by federal laws, mortgage loan originators need to keep current on the guidelines published by entities such as the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB).

This course consists of four sections and a final exam

1. Maintaining Compliance in the Mortgage Industry
 1. Ethical Practices and Common Fraud Schemes
 2. Non-traditional Mortgage Products
 3. Complying with Appraisal Independence Requirements
 4. Final exam

This feedback is then incorporated into your annual continuing education requirements as mandated by the NMLS. This module will cover a variety of conduct issues related to federal laws that are among the most frequently cited by examiners as industry problems.

Module 1 Objectives

When you have completed this module, you will be able to:

- recognize a creditor's notification requirements when taking an adverse action against a loan application.
- identify a loan applicant's right to copies of valuations made during their loan application process.
- demonstrate how a consumer can consent to receiving electronic records and how this consent can be withdrawn.
- outline the requirements for a lender to originate FHA Title I and Title II loans.
- define the purpose of the Informed Consumer Choice Disclosure.
- describe how companies are to deliver initial loan disclosures and any necessary re-disclosures within the prescribed federal time frames.
- explain the kickback and referral fees that are prohibited under the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (12 CFR § 1024).

- list the requirements for issuing an Affiliated Business Arrangement Disclosure, Rate Lock Disclosure, and Adjustable Rate Mortgage Change Disclosure.
- explain the additional disclosures to be included on an advertisement when it contains a trigger term.
- outline the supervisory role of loan originator organizations and where the NMLS ID must be disclosed.

Module 2: Ethical Practices and Common Fraud Schemes

Study Time: 2 clock hours (100 minutes of ethics, fraud, and consumer protection)

- Ethical Mortgage Lending Practices (45 minutes)
- Quiz (5 minutes)
- Mortgage Fraud (45 minutes)
- Quiz (5 minutes)

In this section we will review ethics in mortgage lending and how they affect the mortgage industry. We'll discuss ethical practices and consumer protection responsibilities of the mortgage loan originator, and outline various ethical standards as they relate to a compliance approach of ethical lending. This section will provide you with checklists of possible red flags of mortgage fraud.

The second half of this section will outline a variety of mortgage fraud schemes. Many of the cases outlined in this section cost millions of dollars in losses for lenders, resulted in property foreclosures, and caused stress for those who were victims of these schemes. Some of these dubious plans involved mortgage loan originators and others in the industry, while others were perpetrated by loan applicants who recruited unsuspecting buyers. Reviewing various types of fraud that occurred in our industry may help you recognize it if a suspicious application ever crosses your desk.

Module 2 Objectives

When you have completed this section, you will be able to:

- explain the fiduciary duties of a mortgage loan originator.
- recognize unethical behavior in mortgage advertising, daily business, and processing of loans.
- list the various red flags to potential money laundering or fraud.
- identify specific types of mortgage fraud from case studies and examples.

- Fannie Mae RefiNow™ (8 minutes)
- Quiz (10 minutes)

Besides a traditional conventional loan product, there are other options available when it comes to rehabilitating a home for purchase and refinance that may more perfectly fit the rehab loan needs of the borrower. This module will explain several non-traditional mortgage products, exploring other options available to borrowers. We'll go over the Fannie Mae HomeStyle renovation program, the Good Neighbor Next Door program, reverse mortgages, the VA loan, and Fannie Mae's new RefiNow program.
