Rules of Conduct for NMLS Approved Pre-Licensure (PE) and Continuing Education (CE) Courses

The Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act (SAFE ACT) requires that state-licensed MLO's complete pre-licensing (PE) and continuing education (CE) courses as a condition to be licensed. The SAFE Act also requires that all education completed as a condition for state licensure be NMLS approved. Since 2009 NMLS has established course design, approval, and delivery standards which NMLS approved course providers are required to meet. To further ensure students meet the education requirements of the SAFE Act, NMLS has established a Rules of Conduct (ROC). The ROC, which have been approved by the NMLS Mortgage Testing & Education Board, and the NMLS Policy Committee, both of which are comprised of state regulators, are intended to stress that NMLS approved education be delivered and completed with integrity.

Rules of Conduct

NMLS approved course providers are not authorized by NMLS to grant exceptions to these rules and that I alone am responsible for my conduct under these rules. I also understand these rules are in addition to whatever applicable rules the course provider may have set. Additionally, I understand that the course provider or others may report any alleged violations to NMLS. NMLS may conduct an investigation into alleged violations and may report alleged violations to the state(s) in which I am seeking licensure or maintain licenses, or to other states. Course Description

This course will instruct mortgage loan originators on a number of regulations that they will have to comply with while taking part in their mortgage loan origination activities. Rules, such as those implemented by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, are set in place to protect the interest and well-being of consumers who apply for mortgages to purchase or refinance their properties. To ensure that their business practices satisfy the regulations adopted by federal laws, mortgage loan originators need to keep current on the guidelines published by entities such as the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB).

Fair lending along with compliance to the law, established rules, and implemented regulations is everyone's responsibility. When compliance failures occur, everyone, including the customer, loses.

Licensed and registered mortgage lenders, brokers, and mortgage loan originators are required to maintain a consistent and current understanding of all regulatory requirements to which they are obligated to comply with. This especially applies to individual mortgage loan originators who, in addition to their sponsoring company, will be held accountable for failures discovered through regulatory examinations and investigations involving residential mortgage loans that they originate. Additionally, it should be clearly emphasized that ignorance of the governing rules and regulations does not constitute grounds for exoneration.

The topics outlined in this module are mandated by the NMLS and state regulators, covering the more egregious regulatory compliance failures recently discovered through various regulatory examinations, investigations, and audits.

Module 1 Learning Objectives

At the end of this module, you will be able to

- examine the Truth In Lending Act (TILA, 12 CFR 1026) restrictions on excessive settlement service charges.
- recognize the prohibited act of requiring an applicant to pay a fee before receiving a good faith estimate as outlined in the Real Estate Procedure Act (RESPA, 12 CFR 1024).
- identify the number of written appraisals needed when originating a higher-priced mortgage loan (HPML).
- describe common problems when completing the TILA-mandated Loan Estimate (LE) and Closing Disclosure (CD).
- discuss the notification requirements of a loan applicant notice of approval, notice of incompleteness, adverse action notice, and a corrected Closing Disclosure.
- outline the content that must be disclosed to consumers in a Closing Disclosure.

Module 2: Ethical Treatment of Consumers

- Identity Theft Rules (16 CFR §681,15 USC §1681m(e)) (27 minutes)
- Quiz (5 minutes)
- Telemarketing Sales Rule (16 CFR §310) (33 minutes)
- Quiz (5 minutes)
- BSA/AML Suspicious Activity Report Filing Requirements (15 minutes)
- Quiz (5 minutes)

The ethical treatment of consumers and ethical practices in mortgage lending are a high focus of regulators and consumer advocacy groups. This module will cover ethics, including identity theft prevention, fraud prevention, and consumer protection requirements.

Module 2 Learning Objectives

At the end of this module, you will be able to

- describe the FTC's Identity Theft Rules, and the entities required to comply with the rules, as well as the requirements for covered entities to establish an identity theft prevention program.
- summarize the prohibited deceptive and abusive acts as outlined in the Telemarketing Sales Rules.
- describe the information that should be included on a preliminary suspicious activity report.
- recognize the penalties for failing to comply with Suspicious Activity Report filing requirements.

- What is a VA Loan? (15 minutes)
- Eligibility and Entitlement (36 minutes)
- Joint Loans and IRRRLs (11 minutes)
- Underwriting (28 minutes)
- Quiz (10 minutes)

In this next module, we will meet the requirement to discuss a nontraditional mortgage. This year, we're going to discuss the Department of Veterans Affairs, VA guaranteed loan product – the VA loan.

The objective of the Veterans Administration (VA) mortgage loan program is to provide long-term financing to eligible American military veterans and their surviving spouses, helping veterans purchase properties with no down payment. The program allows eligible veterans to buy, build, repair, retain, or adapt a home for personal occupancy as well as refinance an existing mortgage loan.

Many loan officers are already familiar with this loan program, while some have never provided this loan product to their customers. The objective of this section is to provide a better understanding of the Department of Veterans Affairs VA guaranteed loan product and how it benefits qualified veterans and their families.

Module 3 Learning Objectives

At the end of this module, you will be able to

- outline the veterans and the property types that are eligible for a VA loan.
- recognize how lenders can benefit from the VA loan program.
- describe the various aspects of VA loans, including entitlement, guaranty, IRRRLs, and funding fees.
- explain what a lender must consider when underwriting a VA loan.

Module 4: Fair Housing in Today's Market

Study Time: 1 clock hour (50 minutes of elective topics)

All mortgage lenders and originators, and all others involved in mortgage lending, are subject to state and federal fair lending laws. To remain in compliance, everyone in the lending industry should fully understand these laws.

In this module, we will cover fair housing laws designed to protect consumers, your company, and yourself from discriminatory lending practices. Specifically, we are going to explore relevant provisions of fair housing and take a look at a few issues found in fair housing Law.

Module 4 Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this module, you will be able to

- identify discriminatory practices in the mortgage industry,
- list the protected classes of individuals protected by fair housing, and
- define what is required to comply with fair lending in the mortgage industry.
