Rules of Conduct for NMLS Approved Pre-Licensure (PE) and Continuing Education (CE) Courses

The Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act (SAFE ACT) requires state-licensed MLO's to complete pre-licensing (PE) and continuing education (CE) courses as a condition of licensure. The SAFE Act also requires all education completed as a condition for state licensure be NMLS approved. Since 2009 NMLS has established course design, approval, and delivery standards, which NMLS approved course providers are required to meet. To further ensure students meet education requirements of the SAFE Act, NMLS established Rules of Conduct (ROC). The ROC, which have been approved by the NMLS Mortgage Testing & Education Board (MTEB), and the NMLS Policy Committee, both of which are comprised of state regulators, are intended to stress that NMLS approved education be delivered and completed with integrity.

Rules of Conduct

NMLS approved course providers are not authorized by NMLS to grant exceptions to these rules and that I alone am responsible for my conduct under these rules. I also understand these rules are in addition to whatever applicable rules the course provider may have set.

Additionally, I understand that the course provider or others may report any alleged violations to NMLS. NMLS may conduct an investigation into alleged violations and may report alleged violations to the state(s) in which I am seeking licensure or maintain licenses, or to other states.

Rules, such as those implemented by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, are set in place to protect the interest and well-being of consumers who apply for mortgages to purchase or refinance their properties. To ensure that their business practices satisfy the regulations adopted by federal laws, mortgage loan originators need to keep current on the guidelines published by entities such as the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB).

Fair lending along with compliance to the law, established rules, and implemented regulations is everyone's responsibility. When compliance failures occur, everyone, including the customer, loses.

Licensed and registered mortgage lenders, brokers, and mortgage loan originators are required to maintain a consistent and current understanding of all regulatory requirements with which they are obligated to comply. This especially applies to individual mortgage loan originators who, in addition to their sponsoring company, will be held accountable for failures discovered through regulatory examinations and investigations involving residential mortgage loans that they originate. Additionally, it should be clearly emphasized that ignorance of the governing rules and regulations does not constitute grounds for exoneration.

The topics outlined in this module are mandated by the NMLS and state regulators, covering the more egregious regulatory compliance failures recently discovered through various regulatory examinations, investigations, and audits.

At the end of this module, you will be able to

- Recognize violations of 12 C.F.R. §1002.9(b)(2-9) that occur when stating "Unknown Reason" for loan denials and not providing the principal reason for denying an application.

- Avoid a Zero Tolerance Overcharge in violation of 12 C.F.R. §1026.19(e).
- Identify who is responsible when the TILA Loan Estimate is not provided timely in violation of 12 C.F.R. §1026.19(e)(1).
- Discuss how to document that the borrower was provided with a copy of the appraisal report or other valuation in accordance with 12 C.F.R. §1002.14(a)(1).

- Explain how to provide the correct title fee and make sure the amount of fees on the Closing Disclosure matches with the final settlement statement in accordance with TILA - §1026.19(f)(2)(iii).

Throughout this module, we hope to provide you a better understanding of the laws designed to protect consumers from untruthful mortgage advertising and understanding what you can and cannot do when advertising your loan products. Your proper understanding of these rules is vital when dealing with the public and promoting your services.

At the conclusion of this module, you will be able to

- Identify the CFPB's rules on mortgage advertising including the scope, definitions, and prohibited representations for mortgage loan promotional advertising.
- Give examples of statements used in mortgage lending advertising that might be in violation of the CFPB's advertising rules.

Module 3: The Fannie Mae HomeStyle® Renovation Loan

Study Time: 2 clock hours (100 minutes of non-traditional mortgage)

- The HomeStyle® Renovation (HSR) Program (41 minutes)

- FHA's 203(k) Loan Program (49 minutes)
- Module 3 Quiz (10 minutes)

In this next section, we will explore property rehabilitation loan products. Over the years, most of us have become familiar with the FHA 203(k) Rehab Loan. It was the loan program that many mortgage loan originators turned to when they needed a rehab loan program for their borrower client.

Today, there are other options available when it comes to rehabilitating a home for purchase and refinance that may more perfectly fit the rehab loan needs of the borrower. This module will introduce you to one such program: the Fannie Mae HomeStyle® Rehab loan program. We'll explain the details of this program and compare it to the traditional 203(k) rehab loan.

At the end of this module, you will be able to:

- Recognize the HSR qualifications for borrowers and property types
- Describe how a lender can apply with Fannie Mae to offer the HomeStyle Renovation loan
- Outline the steps necessary for a HomeStyle Renovation loan, from beginning to final inspection

- Module 4 Quiz (10 minutes)

In this module we'll outline a variety of mortgage fraud schemes. Many of the cases we'll review resulted in millions of dollars in losses for lenders and triggered property foreclosures that caused hardships for victims of these schemes.

Some of these dubious plans involved mortgage loan originators and others in the industry, while others were perpetrated by loan applicants who recruited unsuspecting buyers.

Reviewing various types of fraud that occurred in our industry may help you recognize it if a suspicious application ever crosses your desk.

At the end of this module, you will be able to

- identify specific types of mortgage fraud from case studies and examples.
